

Outreach activities to encourage applications by women in subjects of underrepresented

- The admission to Health Science stream women representation is good. However, through University outreach programs the students of pre University colleges are oriented regarding other skill based programs offered by the University that offer good employability.
- KAHER maintains transparency in admission process and strict merit is followed while admitting students.
- The University makes merit list towards admission. Special care is taken while making note of prospective female students for admission to University programs.
- The admission section of the University looks into smooth admission from application process till the admission and beyond. The process is assisted by individual attention at the time of admission that includes tech support, assistance for payment of fees etc.
- The process also follows a tracking system of all students and girl students in particular.
- University and constituent colleges have been conducting Outreach activities that tries to reach Women students and orient them regarding regular and skill based programmes offered by the University. The girl students are also oriented towards employability following the completion of these programs.
- The Empower Cell for Women has been conducting regular orientation programs along with other NGO's towards environment sustainability. The cell has also been working on Government projects like making toilets in Government Schools for girl children.
